SHARP DEBATE ON HOUSE FLOOR

PUBLIC LAND QUESTION CAUSES
SPIRITED.

RECOMMENDS BUCKET-
SHOP BILL

Two Republican Members Kept Apart
by Colleagues--Evans Charged with Aiding Democrats.

Guthrie, Ok., April 27.—Growing warm over who controlled the policies of the republican minority of the house of representatives, Mr. Evans, Flortorial representative from Alfalfa county, and Mrs. Sands of Beaver county, both republican members were prevented from coming to blows on the floor of the house today by the interference of other members. The debate was the public land question, Mr. Evans supporting a substitute measure offered by Speaker Murray, referring the question to the voters in the November election. A dispute arose between Mr. Evans and other members of the minority as to what the republican state platform had to say about the sale of the school lands, which continued until Mr. Evans declared that some of the minority were "sore" because he refused to vote as they dictated. Mr. Sands said the statement was palpably untrue, to which Mr. Evans replied questioning others' veracity. A hubbub ensued. Mr. Evans was then declared to be in possession of the floor by Speaker Murray and continued his address. Feeling is said to have not been cordial between Mr. Evans and other members of the republican minority since his vote for the Jim Crow law, being the only republican member in the house to do so. He is also author of a bill, which passed the house, providing for Jim Crow teachers' institutes for colored teachers, which some of the minority opposed. Mr. Evans came to the legislature with a contest and was seated by the democrats. He was today charged with supporting democratic measures "in order to draw democratic applause."

Public Land.
What to do with Oklahoma's 3,000,000 acres of public lands was the sole topic of debate in the house, and in the absence of a vote, the bill by Representative Fisher and the substitute offered by Speaker Murray went over until 1 o'clock tomorrow. The Fisher bill is said to represent the lessee's side of the question. It proposes to divide between the lessee and the state the increased value of the land when sold. The Murray substitute differs by restricting the sale to 160 acres instead of section tracts, and contemplates no division of the profits, so to speak. The indemnity and public building lands are to be sold immediately and all others after July 1, 1911, and it is required that purchasers shall make a bona fide residence upon the land purchased from the state for at least three years. A preference right in 160 acres is given to each lessee. No person owning land in excess of 160 acres, whether such holding is situated in the state or elsewhere, may become a purchaser under the act. All terms of the act are to be submitted to the people at the November election for adoption or rejection.

The Fisher bill proposes no referendum.
Capital Removal.
Final passage was obtained upon Mr. Bryan's joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution permitting the people to vote upon the removal of the capital as soon as submitted.

The senate passed a bill by Senator Taylor authorizing the secretary of state to make a contract with the Pipes-Reed Book Company of Kansas City for printing 5,000 copies annotated statutes of Oklahoma at not to exceed $3 per volume, delivered in Guthrie. The volume is to be of 2,000 pages, containing all the laws of the Territory of Oklahoma and those passed by the First State Legislature, as well as the constitution and the organic acts.

Eight-Hour Day.
A new bill by Senator Billups today was constituting eight hours a day's work for the state employees, carrying into effect such provision of the constitution. The new house bills, were by Mr. Durant and Mr. Rainey, making it a crime to falsely publish a commercial rating, and by Mr. Baldwin, creating the position of employees of the legislature and fixing their salaries. The bill proposes that the lieutenant governor shall receive $1.50 per day and the speaker of the house of representatives $3 per day in addition to their constitutional pay.

A conference committee in the Oklahoma Senate yesterday recommended the passage of the Franklin Senate bill prohibiting bucket-shops from operating in the state.

TRAIN WRECK NEAR STANLEY, OKLAHOMA

Paris, Tex., April 27.—Frisco passenger train No. 1, southbound, due here at 9:30 o'clock this morning, was wrecked at 6:35 o'clock half a mile north of Stanley, Ok. The train was going fifteen miles an hour, broken rail caused, the engine to leave the track first. It was followed by the sleeper, both cars sliding down a thirty-foot embankment on their left side and resting a little on the roof. The smoking car went about a car's length further and landed on the roof, turning completely over. One end of the mail car was derailed and turned slightly around. The engine and baggage car stayed on the rails. Engineer C. W. Munroe and Conductor V. H. Such were in charge of the train. There were thirty-five passengers on the train, and twenty were more or less injured.

J. Adams of Francis, Ok., was badly cut over the eye. A bridge carpenter named Hornbeck from Rogers, Ark., received several bad cuts on different parts of the head. Mrs. Tom Whitten of Stanley, Okla., the only woman on the train, was injured on the leg, arms and chest. She had two little children and a baby in her arms. She fell on top of the baby, but it was not injured. One of the other children was slightly cut on the head. Lloyd Peters, the brakeman, was cut on the hip and face, bruised on the hip and cut on the leg. George Smith a traveling man from Milwaukee, was bruised on the left arm, leg and back.

Thomas Elmore Lacey of Eureka Springs, Ark., on the way to Belton to lecture at Baylor Female College, and W. B. Price of Venus, Tex., were bruised about the arms. Messrs. Adams and Hornbeck were the only passengers seriously injured. They were sent to the Springfield hospital. None of the others were injured enough to prevent them from continuing their journey.

The wreck was soon cleared, as the coaches rolled down the embankment. About 400 feet of rails on the east side were torn up. They were soon replaced and the mail car put back. Two coaches were sent up from Paris to furnish equipment for the train which reached here at 3:20 p. m.

No. 5 followed a short distance behind nearly on schedule time. When the accident was first reported a relief train was sent out from Hugo, but it was found that none of the passengers except the two sent to the Springfield hospital were seriously enough hurt to need attention.

GOVERNOR TO NAME HOLIDAY

Guthrie, Ok., April 27.—For the purpose of gathering a monster petition in support of Oklahoma's amendment to the federal constitution and for a national constitutional convention Gov. Haskell will proclaim a state-wide holiday of twenty-four hours next week and ask that the people assemble in their churches schoolhouses and courtrooms, adopt and sign suitable resolutions to congress.

Members of the Oklahoma senatorial direct election commission left for Washington yesterday, carrying a long memorial and the five amendments adopted by the commission. The one of particular interest to prohibition workers is that proposing to give the states control of all liquor shipments as soon as they reach the state line. Other propositions are for an income tax; to confer upon congress authority to regulate and define liability of common carriers to their employees for injuries resulting from fellow-servants' negligence; conferring upon the state the right to regulate charges of common carriers; the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and to give the states authority to exclude convict-made goods.

Twenty-seven states have joined in petitioning for a constitutional convention submitting proposed amendments to a vote of the people.

ADA ARTESIAN WATER

NOW ON SALE

Until a short time ago few people in Ada were aware of an artesian well in our midst only the immediate neighbors of Mr. L. H. Woodward knew of such a well and its virtues as a table water. The writer was present when the well was dug and the water struck and remembers seeing it rise to the top of the well even before the casing was put in, and it has been flowing freely ever since. There is no question about the medical properties of this well and all who have used it will testify to it.

Last summer during the dry hot weather, the well became famous. The town was out of ice and people flocked to the well in such numbers that it necessitated a making a small charge for the water which Mr. Woodward did and since people who began using it are mostly still doing it.

Messrs. Frierson Bros. realizing the value of the property purchased it at a fancy price and have placed Mr. Walter Hughes in charge. They have spent a large sum of money in fixing up the property, have a large supply of bottles bought specially for the purpose, and Mr. Walter Hughes will now deliver the water to any part of the city at reasonable prices. The analysis of the water shows it to be unexcelled as a table water, and the chemist at the United States experimental station says he would not hesitate to use the water in his own family. Now what is the use of people sending away from Ada for water to drink when all they want can be obtained at home. It is being used in Guthrie by the Ada delegation in their display, and reports from there speak well of its quality, and quite a number of inquiries have been received from the proprietors of this well in regard to its use, all ready quite a good deal is being shipped out. The writer has been using it in his family for the past three years and can truthfully say it has not a superior in health giving qualities.

LAI D TO REST

The remains of J. E. Bills were laid to rest in Rosedale cemetery at sun set Monday evening, followed to the grave besides his family and relatives, by nearly every citizen of Ada who knew him. Services were held at the Christian church by Rev. E. L. Kirtley who reviewed Mr. Bills' past life, and in a beautiful and touching manner told of his relations to the church, his sincerity as a christian, and his recent generosity of his membership with the church here. After services the casket was opened for friends and relatives to view for the last time on earth the remains of one of the noblest of men. He was then taken to the cemetery where he was laid to rest. The pall bearers were those of his most intimate friends and business associates, Messrs. Tom Hope, T. J. Chambliss, S. M. Torbett, R. M. Holcombe of Oklahoma City, J. P. McKinley, Geo. S. Frierson, Andrew K. Thornton, Sherwood W. Hill, Joseph A. Biles and W. H. Ebey.

ATTEMPTED RAPE

Yesterday afternoon the family of Mr. J. H. Gilbert living three miles northwest of Ada, on the O. C. railroad, went away from home leaving his daughter, Miss Eliza Gilbert, about 17 years of age, alone. A man supposed to be a Mexican or Greek laborer came to the house and attempted to assault her. Luckily her father had started home and when near enough heard her screams and went quickly to her assistance, when the fiend saw him coming he ran and made good his escape. Officers are on the look out and hope to capture him. The description given him is low heavy set, and he is supposed to be a Mexican or Greek and has been working on the section of the O. C. It is hoped he will be brought to justice. He did not accomplish his purpose and the young lady except from the nervous strain and excitement is uninjured.

BASE BALL

The real thing in base ball circles will come off in Ada Wednesday and Thursday. Shawnee hearing of the success lately attained by the "Grand Leader" base ball team will be over tomorrow and a game of ball will be seen such as we have not had in Ada for a long time. FARMERS DEMAND

GRADUATE TAX

Shawnee, Okla., April 27.—Petitions signed by farmers throughout Oklahoma are being received at the Farmers' Union headquarters here, requesting that an effort be made to have certain laws passed by the legislature affecting the agricultural interests of Oklahoma. The most important of these petitions concern the graduated road tax. While no bill regarding this tax has yet been introduced, the farmers still hope to get it before the adjournment is taken. This tax is aimed at large bond holders, and works entirely for the interest of the farmers owning small parcels of land.

SAPULPA FIRE--LOSS $90,000

Sapulpa, Okla., April 27.—Two blocks of business houses and twelve stocks of goods were destroyed by two fires here today, one of which began at 4 o'clock a. m. and the other at 10:55 a. m. and the estimated total loss is $75,000 to $90,000. Six one-story brick buildings in the Iowa block were totally destroyed with their stocks in the first fire, which originated in the dry goods store of Sheffield & Treadway and from an unknown cause. The second fire destroyed six buildings with their contents on the block immediately south of the Iowa block, and is supposed to have been caused by the first fire.

THE SHOE MAN

Men and Women on the Witness Stand

PITTSBURG.—Are women less to be believed than men, on oath or otherwise? is a question that has been excited by the utterances of a few men, and at least one woman, who have in public recently insisted that women as a general proposition have no sense of the binding sanctity of an oath and are blind to the moral obligation of telling the truth.

A few days ago, came Dr. William H. Taylor, state chemist of Virginia, in a lecture to the students of the State Medical College of Virginia, proclaimed that a woman had "no conception of the moral obligation entailed in telling the truth." In his opinion truth with a woman is what she wants to be believed. She is convinced that what she calls her "intuitions" must always be right.

As a buttress to what these "mere men" have asserted comes Mary Heaton Vorse, a woman of some note as a writer for the magazines, who asserts that few women can be depended upon to tell the truth, she presumably being one of the few; that they "beat" street railway companies; that they listen at telephones, betray confidences, sneak the reading of letters; and that she believes the statement of an old judge who told her that upon the witness stand "women would invariably perjure themselves."

These declarations were so sweeping and so extraordinary that the Pittsburgh-Dispatch was led to seek the opinions of some Pittsburgh women of note, who could be depended upon to say what they thought regardless of any reflection upon their own sex—women who think independently and whose thoughts are well defined and their language well thought out. One of these is Mrs. Enoch Rauh, president of the Council of Jewish Women.

Not a Question of Sex.
"The telling of truth is absolutely not a matter of sex," was the emphatic answer to a query by the representative of the Dispatch. "Both sexes equivocate and evade upon occasion and no one will hazard his reputation for veracity by saying that women should be singled out for this mark of opprobrium as distinct from men. Both are of the same blood and fiber, and whatever denunciation lies against the one in the matter of stating what is untrue lies against the other."

"I cannot understand how any man or woman of intelligent appreciation of the world's activities could sink to the depths of uttering such a slander against the mothers, sisters and daughters who are responsible for the maternity of their kind of both sexes."

I have found women witnesses, to say the least, no less truthful than those of the other sex. * * I have known of but one case of deliberate perjury by a woman.—Miss Suzanne Beatty, Attorney-at-Law.

It would be one of the most astounding of paradoxes if they could bring into the world one sex more addicted than another to the telling of untruths under any circumstances. Take the great question of heredity for instance. It is the testimony of some of the greatest physicians of this and other times that the sons unusually inherit the traits of the mothers and the daughters those of their fathers. Now how shall we assimilate this unquestioned dictum of science with the assertions of these gentlemen that women are more prone than men to evade the truth? You see that the whole proposition falls to the ground. It is not possible that environment after birth could so warp and distort the natural tendencies. These gentlemen who have been so widely quoted evidently know little of the world of women. They have placed themselves on record after a very superficial and perfunctory analysis of the sex. The very fact that they have been quoted at all indicates that their views are altogether bizarre. If this had been an established fact in all the thousands of years of the history of the human race their belligerent proclamations would not have been noticed. Has it been left for them to make a discovery of a new world of unmorality?

"While the fact that the matter has been so widely bruited about gives it a measure of importance, it is rather that sort of importance which adds Proper discipline in his early youth would probably have had such effect upon Mr. Taylor that he would have never thought of the statements so antipodal to truth which he has made in regard to women as compared with men.—Mrs. Samuel Ammon.

to the amusing and diverting phases of social life than to those activities which make for development and progress, and the Dispatch deserves thanks for contributing to the 'gayety of nations' by giving us a chance to say a word in answer to even the most obscure of dialecticians who have presumed to air their oratory upon a theme which was certain to attract some attention and excite curiosity if not respect."

Equivocate in Little Things.
"This matter of evading the truth is even far older than the remark made by an eminent historic personage that he had said in his haste that all men were liars," was the remark of Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, well known for her great activities in civic affairs, when the caustic assertions of Dr. Taylor were broached to her. "It is quite possible and defensible," continued Mrs. Ammon, "that in what we may call the 'little things' of life women evade the truth more often than men do, because they are brought into contact with those little things, chiefly domestic, more than men are. Shall we tell the diseased that they are afflicted incurably? Shall we say to the dying that there is no hope for them? Shall we give an absolutely blunt, direct answer to prying inquiries which should never have had utterance and which may most probably be repeated as gossip with such coloring as repetition and imagination may inspire?"

"The question of unwavering truth telling is one which has agitated the deepest of analytical minds, but the greatest of these has not been led to assert that unmorality of prevarication was most highly developed in women than in men. Whatever failing there may be is to be equally condemned in both sexes. It is quite possible and quite natural that where the affections are involved the woman may be more easily swayed than the man. She is more the creature of sentiment and emotion. Her friendships and loves are deeper and dearer. Therefore, on the witness stand, she may the more readily, and surely more unconsciously, depart from the exact truth when the interests of those whom she loves are involved. But she does it unconsciously or almost so, if at all. It is a psychological impulse."

Have Fear of the Law.
"Again, a woman on the witness stand is more apt from her sphere than a man is. She is more liable to the mistakes of embarrassment. For that she should not be called to account. It is my conviction, however, that women will, generally speaking, be more likely than men to tell the truth in court. She has a fear of the weapon called the law. It is practically an unknown force to her. It is with her, therefore, potential for the truth."

"That there is too much falsehood in human life is distressingly apparent. It is all too much a part of our social existence. To some extent we may say it is enforced by conditions, but it is also all too much due to a lack of proper moral training. It is the natural bent of the child mind to evade the truth when the act has been naughty and by concealing the truth to evade reproof and possible punishment. That is the basic work of the lack of moral obligation in regard to the truth in all society. I believe that a good, sound spanking, administered intelligently, with proper spirit, at the proper time, with kindly and proper explanation, would vastly lessen the evasions, lies and perjuries of all phases of life. Proper discipline in his early youth would probably have had such effect upon Mr. Taylor that he would have never thought of the statements so antipodal to truth which he made in regard to women as compared with men."

Women Truthful Witnesses.

Miss Suzanne Beatty, attorney-at-law, gives an emphatic negative to the assertion that women are more than men inclined to evade the truth on the witness stand.

"I have been a close student of this matter," said Miss Beatty, "and it is my positive judgment that women are quite as dependable as men when testifying before a law court. When I was at home, a mere child, one of the dear friends of our family was Judge Campbell, then the presiding judge of the Clarion district. It is possible that even at that time I had in me the latent germ of the pursuit of the law as a profession, for all that pertained to the courts was of the deepest interest to me. I was much impressed with the remarks of Judge Campbell, often iterated, that he would as a general proposition believe a woman witness sooner than he would a man. Even in those childish days the remark from one who was so deeply venerated by me aroused my pride of sex and when I came to practice you can imagine that my attention was naturally directed to this subject."

All Swayed by Sentiment.

"I want to say, and to put it as strongly as words can make it, that I have found women witnesses, to say the least, no less truthful than those of the other sex. It is a well-known fact that all witnesses are to some extent swayed by sentiment in favor of the person in whose interests they are testifying. Allowance must be made for that, but that women are more powerfully influenced by such considerations than men I do not believe. I have known women to testify the truth in great stress of circumstances, when to conceal the truth would have been much to their advantage, and when cautioned by the judge that their testimony was to their own prejudice I have heard them say with tears that it was the truth and that the truth must be told."

"I have never known but one case of deliberate perjury by a woman, and that was exceedingly curious. The girl's lover was under trial for burglary. The testimony was vaguely circumstantial. The girl produced a diary which she had kept for the entire year, including the time of the alleged burglary. That diary showed that the alleged burglar had been in her company at a time when it would have been impossible for him to have been on the scene of the burglary. The diary seemed genuine and the court, jury and prosecuting attorney accepted it as such. Just as the jury was about to retire, however, the attorney for the commonwealth happened to glance at an obscure imprint on the diary which showed that the book had been printed at a time subsequent to the date of the burglary. The case was continued, and it was brought out that the firm producing the diary never issued the books to be used by the trade previous to the year of their date. It was a clear case of perjury and one of remarkable cunning considering the very ordinary intellect of the girl. The matter had been written for the entire year and bore all the marks of genuineness.

Poor Basis for Sensation.

"It is a fact known to all lawyers that women fear the law more than men do, and therefore take fewer risks upon the stand in the matter of telling an untruth. It is my opinion that Dr. Taylor chose a very tottering basis for a sensation, and that in making himself talked about he has also made himself absurd."

In a very racy manner Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, attorney-at-law, discussed what has been termed by Shakespeare the "lie circumstantial" and the "lie direct." "Women may lie on the witness stand," said Mrs. Iams, "in circumstances which arouse within her a powerful sentiment, while in similar circumstances a man would lie deliberately and wilfully. The lie in the one case may be said to have been to some extent unconscious, the woman having been persuaded on account of her affections to believe that what she said was true because she wanted it to be true. The man would tell the lie direct, knowing that it was a lie, and telling it to make his case or that of the person in whose interest he was testifying."

Women More Emotional.

"Of course, as everyone knows, women are far more emotional than men. They are therefore more likely to be swayed by their sentiments. I am inclined to think, therefore, that for this very reason women are somewhat less dependable as witnesses than men, although less to blame for their equivocations. When a man tells a deliberate lie he must be an adept at the business indeed if something in his manner or expression fails to suggest that fact to the jury. A woman speaking under the influence of powerful sentiment is more apt to give her statement every semblance of truth. The man lying deliberately is well aware that he can hardly do it successfully and therefore he is less apt to try the experiment, although he is morally just as much the liar as though he did try it. "I would say that there is some measure of truth in the assumption that women are more liable than men to go astray from the exact facts when they are in the strange position of a witness in the courts, but the sweeping assertion of Dr. Taylor that in all circumstances they are less to be believed than men is a statement that should simply make the person who made it ridiculous."

I cannot understand how any man or woman of intelligent appreciation of the world's activities could sink to the depths of uttering such a slander.—Mrs. Enoch Rauh.

"You ask me about the conflict of what is called expert testimony. I think that is not fully understood. It is my conviction that expert testimony is usually fairly honest, no matter how conflicting it may seem, and for this reason: The expert is always examined by the attorney previous to trial and hearing, and if he be not convinced that the testimony is frankly in his favor he will not employ the expert."

For Overdose of Morphine.

When one has taken morphine, either with or without the advice of a physician, should there be extreme drowsiness followed by unconsciousness, with slow breathing, with marked contraction of the pupil of the eye and cold surface of the body, there has been an overdose. Until a physician can be summoned the patient should be walked constantly and not allowed to go to sleep. There might also be given an antidote such as powerful emetics or strong coffee, and artificial respiration.

Young Women Lead in Studies.

At the recent suffrage hearing in Boston President Huntington of the University of Boston mentioned that the young women of the university averaged better in their studies than the young men. It will be remembered that President Eliot of Harvard, President Thomas of Bryn Mawr, and President Van Hise of the Wisconsin state university bore witness to the same fact at a recent meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

Subsist on Uninhabited Islands.

Sailors cast away on uninhabited islands in temperate regions have managed to subsist for long periods. Thus, the crew of the Caroline, wrecked on Ducie island, in the South Pacific, in July, 1883, lived there quite comfortably until taken off in May, 1885; while two survivors of the whaler Essex were three years and four months on the neighboring Henderson island, before being rescued.

PLEADS FOR COLOR HARMONY.

Tints That Vibrate Will Rest and Soothe, Declares Milliner.

That harmony of color has its effect on the nerves is the theory followed by a milliner.

"Take a well-appointed table, for instance, with its soft-shaded candle light," she says in explaining certain hats. "It pleases the eye, relaxes the nerves and one forgets under its spell the brutality of feeling."

"An unshaded clear white electric light is enough to take away the appetite from even the hungriest man. It is like eating under an X-ray."

"Take the soft rose lights of the dining room of the Carleton in London, for instance. I mention it because it is the most perfectly harmonious room as to coloring that I know of anywhere."

"The women look pretty, the men handsome and distinguished, and one does not have to resort to the vulgar cocktail to see the rosy side of life. The pink shade answers the purpose quite as well and saves the digestion."

"America has much to learn on this subject. Most of its hotels and places of amusement are most unbearably treated. And I maintain that one reason American women wrinkle so soon is that they have to face such strong lights."

"There is no vibration in black, and yet it is the favorite apparel of the multitude. We are overrun with blackbirds; sometimes they vary it with a wash of white; then they become magpies."

"I designed a hat the other day for a most interesting woman, a Buddhist. It was like weaving a Persian rug. The materials were all in half-tones, and so becoming."

"I do not sacrifice the individuality of my clients, either, to my creations, but study the lines and contours of the head, the face and figure, and match the tones that have the proper color vibrations to suit the hair and the eyes."

"Only in this way can one expect results which are altogether happy and distinctive. There is no mystery in it at all, only common sense, as you, I am sure, will agree, once you have thought it out."

Hair Powders.

At the seashore and wherever warm, humid weather is encountered, the woman with straight hair has much to contend with. Unless unusually luxuriant, straight hair is always difficult to arrange becomingly, but in a hot climate the task is an almost impossible one. Some kind of powder rubbed into the hair as often as necessary will do much to keep the stray locks manageable, but of course the powder must not be recklessly used or it will defeat the very end for which it is aiming. Swedish hair powder rubbed into the hair twice, three times, or oftener, a week, is particularly good, as it also acts as a tonic and strengthens the roots of the hair besides keeping the scalp in good condition.

Corset Novelty.

A decided novelty is a new corset which proposes to support the back by pressure of two crossed straps inside the back of the corsets, the ends of the straps being anchored to the front steels on the outside. Seems almost like the proverbial lifting one's self by the boot-strap, yet the inventor says that it not only rests the back, but gives the wearer the very best "new figure," with flat back and slender hips. Furthermore, that the back steels can never turn and dig into the flesh, be the corset laced ever so tightly. For the sake of suffering woman-kind, it is to be hoped that this back-resting corset may prove to be all that its designer claims for it.

Poem in Mole-Color.

A smart and useful little suit is of moleskin gray tweed of a firm rather smooth make, with the merest suggestion of a very faint dull purple stripe in it. It is faced with moleskin broadcloth, strapped with a heavy raised silk braid to match, and finished off with purple satin buttons, inclosed in a network of mole silk crochet till the purple hardly shows.

HOW TO WASH SILK HOSE.

A Few Hints for Careful Girls Who Want to Save Them.

Careful girls don't waste their substance on silk stockings, and then send them to the laundry to be reduced to ravelings. Besides, it's a pleasure to wash the daintier, palestinted ones.

The very latest way, which girls who have cared for their own silk hose all winter say is best, is to wash them first in white soap and lukewarm water. Then they are rolled in a cloth previously wrung out in hot water and left there to steam for an hour. At the end of this time they are turned inside out and hung out to dry, and when nearly dry rubbed between the palms of the hands to make them soft and pliable, as well as to give the foot the correct shape. Ironing is a great mistake, as the iron not only rots the silk, but causes an unsightly ridge down the center of the leg.

Another way, when the stockings are badly stained, is to soak them first in warm water, to which a little borax has been added, and then wash them quickly in tepid soapsuds, after which they should be squeezed between the fingers to rid them of the soapsuds, and finally rinsed in soft water and hung out to dry without being wrung. In the case of white hose, most girls add bluing to the water.

Lace hose should first be soaked in water in which salt or a lump of alum the size of a walnut has been dissolved, and then plunged into a mixture of a wineglass of vinegar stirred into a soapy lather, pressing them well between the fingers until they are clean. Before washing black or bronze silk stockings it is a good plan to soak them for an hour in water to which a little black pepper has been added.

BODICE FOR AFTERNOON DRESS.

This is a pretty bodice for a dress of velveteen. It has a fitting lining, which fastens down the center front; upon it is arranged a full yoke and vest of soft silk trimmed with insertion, then the velveteen is put on plain under a narrow silk galloon. The sleeves are of the silk, the lower part being rucked and tight-fitting. Epaulettes of the velvet edged with galloon ornament the top of sleeve.

Materials required: 2 1/4 yards velveteen, three yards silk and two yards lining.

Outline Tucks.

Some of the broad tucks in the new linen tailored blouses are sewn in with the outline stitch in mercerized cotton. This is merely the back stitch used on the right side of the material, and in contrast of shades it presents many possibilities. Many women wisely prefer mercerized cotton for the purpose because it washes so much better than does the less twisted silk.

Soutache Braid.

Soutache braid is as popular as ever and whole bodies are made entirely of this material. It is very attractive when combined with clumsy lace or filet.

PUBLIC LAND QUESTION CAUSES SPIRITED.

RECOMMENDS BUCKET-SHOP BILL

Two Republican Members Kept Apart by Colleagues—Evans Charged with Aiding Democrats.

Guthrie, Ok., April 27.—Growing warm over who controlled the policies of the republican minority of the house of representatives, Mr. Evans, Floridian representative from Alfalfa county, and Mrs. Sands of Beaver county, both republican members were prevented from coming to blows on the floor of the house today by the interference of other members. The debate was the public land question, Mr. Evans supporting a substitute measure offered by Speaker Murray, referring the question to the voters in the November election. A dispute arose between Mr. Evans and other members of the minority as to what the republican state platform had to say about the sale of the school lands, which continued until Mr. Evans declared that some of the minority were "sore" because he refused to vote as they dictated. Mr. Sands said the statement was palpably untrue, to which Mr. Evans replied questioning others' veracity. A hubbub ensued. Mr. Evans was then declared to be in possession of the floor by Speaker Murray and continued his address. Feeling is said to have not been cordial between Mr. Evans and other members of the republican minority since his vote for the Jim Crow law, being the only republican member in the house to do so. He is also author of a bill, which passed the house, providing for Jim Crow teachers' institutes for colored teachers, which some of the minority opposed. Mr. Evans came to the legislature with a contest and was seated by the democrats. He was today charged with supporting democratic measures "in order to draw democratic applause."

Public Land.
What to do with Oklahoma's 3,000,000 acres of public lands was the sole topic of debate in the house, and in the absence of a vote, the bill by Representative Fisher and the substitute offered by Speaker Murray went over until 1 o'clock tomorrow. The Fisher bill is said to represent the lessee's side of the question. It proposes to divide between the lessee and the state the increased value of the land when sold. The Murray substitute differs by restricting the sale to 160 acres instead of section tracts, and contemplates no division of the profits, so to speak. The indemnity and public building lands are to be sold immediately and all others after July 1, 1911, and it is required that purchasers shall make a bona fide residence upon the land purchased from the state for at least three years. A preference right in 160 acres is given to each lessee. No person owning land in excess of 160 acres, whether such holding is situated in the state or elsewhere, may become a purchaser under the act. All terms of the act are to be submitted to the people at the November election for adoption or rejection. The Fisher bill proposes no referendum. Capital Removal. Final passage was obtained upon Mr. Bryan's joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution permitting the people to vote upon the removal of the capital as soon as submitted. The senate passed a bill by Senator Taylor authorizing the secretary of state to make a contract with the Pipes-Reed Book Company of Kansas City for printing 5,000 copies annotated statutes of Oklahoma at not to exceed $3 per volume, delivered in Guthrie. The volume is to be of 2,000 pages, containing all the laws of the Territory of

Oklahoma and those passed by the First State Legislature, as well as the constitution and the organic acts.

Eight-Hour Day.
A new bill by Senator Billups today was constituting eight hours a day's work for the state employees, carrying into effect such provision of the constitution. The new house bills, were by Mr. Durant and Mr. Rainey, making it a crime to falsely publish a commercial rating, and by Mr. Baldwin, creating the position of employees of the legislature and fixing their salaries. The bill proposes that the lieutenant governor shall receive $1.50 per day and the speaker of the house of representatives $3 per day in addition to their constitutional pay.

A conference committee in the Oklahoma Senate yesterday recommended the passage of the Franklin Senate bill prohibiting bucket-shops from operating in the state.

TRAIN WRECK NEAR STANLEY, OKLAHOMA

Paris, Tex., April 27.—Frisco passenger train No. 1, southbound, due here at 9 o'clock this morning, was wrecked at 8:30 o'clock half a mile north of Stanley, Ok. The train was going fifteen miles an hour when the engine, the only car to leave the track first. It was followed by the sleeper, both cars sliding down a thirty-foot embankment on their left side and resting a little on the roof. The smoking car went about a car's length further and landed on the roof, turning completely over. One end of the mail car was dented and turned slightly around. The engine and baggage car stayed on the rails. Engineer C. W. Munroe and Conductor H. Such were in charge of the train. There were thirty-five passengers on the train, and twenty were more or less injured.

J. Adams of Francis, Ok., was badly cut over the eye. A bridge carpenter named Hornbeck from Rogers, Ark., received several bad cuts on different parts of the head. Mrs. Tom Whitten of Stanley, Ok., the only woman on the train, was injured on the leg, arm and chest. She had two little children and a baby in her arms. She fell on top of the baby, but it was not injured. One of the other children was slightly cut on the head. Lloyd Peters, the brakeman, was cut on the lip and face, bruised on the hip and cut on the leg. George Smith, a travelling man from Milwaukee, was bruised on the left arm, leg and back. Thomas Elmore Lucy of Broken Springs, Ark., on the way to Belton to lecture at Baylor Female College, and W. B. Pile of Venus, Tex., were bruised about the arms. Messrs. Adams and Hornbeck were the only passengers seriously injured. They were sent to the Springfield hospital. None of the others were injured enough to prevent them from continuing their journey.

The wreck was soon cleared, as the coaches rolled down the embankment. About 400 feet of rails on the east side were torn up. They were soon replaced and the mail car put back. Two coaches were sent up from Paris to furnish equipment for the train which reached here at 3:20 p. m.

No. 5 followed a short distance, behind usually on schedule time. When the accident was first reported a relief train was sent out from Hugo, but it was found that none of the passengers except the two sent to the Springfield hospital were seriously enough hurt to need attention.

GOVERNOR TO NAME HOLIDAY

Guthrie, Ok., April 27.—For the purpose of gathering a monster petition in support of Oklahoma's amendment to the federal constitution and for a national constitutional convention Gov. Haskell will proclaim a state-wide holiday of twenty-four hours next week and ask that the people assemble in their churches, schoolhouses and courtrooms, adopt and sign suitable resolutions to congress. Members of the Oklahoma senatorial direct election commission left for Washington yesterday, carrying a long memorial and the five amendments adopted by the commission. The one of particular interest to prohibition workers is that proposing to give the states control of all liquor shipments as soon as they reach the state line. Other propositions are for an income tax; to confer upon congress authority to regulate and define liability of common carriers to their employees for injuries resulting from fellow-servants' negligence; conferring upon the state the right to regulate charges of common carriers; the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and to give the states authority to exclude convict-made goods. Twenty-seven states have joined in petitioning for a constitutional convention submitting proposed amendments to a vote of the people.

ADA ARTESIAN WATER NOW ON SALE

Until a short time ago few people in Ada were aware of the immediate neighbors of Mr. L. H. Woodward knew of such a well and its virtues as a table water. The writer was present when the well was dug and the water struck and remembers seeing it rise to the top of the well even before the casing was put in, and it has been flowing freely ever since. There is no question about the medicinal properties of this well and all who have used it will testify to it.

Last summer during the dry hot weather, the well became famous. The town was out of ice and people flocked to the well in such numbers that it necessitated a making a small charge for the water which Mr. Woodward did and since people who began using it are mostly still doing it.

Messrs. Frierson Bros., realizing the value of the property purchased it at a fancy price and have placed Mr. Walter Hughes in charge. They have spent a large sum of money in fixing up the property, have a large supply of bottles bought specially for the purpose, and Mr. Walter Hughes will now deliver the water to any part of the city at reasonable prices. The analysis of the water shows it to be unexcelled as a table water, and the chemist at the United States experimental station says he would not hesitate to use the water in his own family. Now what is the use of people sending away from Ada for water to drink when all they want can be obtained at home. It is being sent in Guthrie by the Ada delegation in their display, and reports from there speak well of its quality, and quite a number of inquiries have been received from the proprietors of this well in regard to its use, all ready quite a good deal is being shipped out. The writer has been using it in his family for the past three years and can truthfully say it has not a superior in health giving qualities.

LAID TO REST

The remains of J. E. Bills were laid to rest in Rosedale cemetery at sun set Monday evening, followed to the grave besides his family and relatives, by nearly every citizen of Ada who knew him. Services were held at the Christian church by Rev. E. L. Kirtley who reviewed Mr. Bills' past life, and in a beautiful and touching manner told of his relations to the church, his sincerity as a Christian, and his recent renewal of his membership with the church here. After services the casket was opened for friends and relatives to view for the last time on earth the remains of one of the noblest of men. He was then taken to the cemetery where he was laid to rest. The pall bearers were those of his most intimate friends and business associates, Messrs. Tom Hope, T. J. Chambliss, S. M. Torbett, R. M. Hebebrand of Oklahoma City, J. P. McKinley, Geo. S. Frierson, Andrew K. Thornton, Sherwood W. Hill, Joseph A. Bliss and W. H. Eby.

ATTEMPTED RAPE

Yesterday afternoon the family of Mr. J. H. Gilbert living three miles northwest of Ada, on the O. C. railroad, went away from home leaving his daughter, Miss Eliza Gilbert, about 17 years of age, alone. A man supposed to be a Mexican or Greek laborer came to the house and attempted to assault her. Luckily her father had started home and when near enough heard her screams and went quickly to her assistance, when the fiend saw him coming he ran and made good his escape. Officers are on the look out and hope to capture him. The description given him is low heavy set, and he is supposed to be a Mexican or Greek and has been working on the section of the O. C. It is hoped he will be brought to justice. He did not accomplish his purpose and the young lady except from the nervous strain and excitement is uninjured.

FARMERS DEMAND GRADUATE TAX

Shawnee, Okla., April 27.—Petitions signed by farmers throughout Oklahoma are being received at the Farmers' Union headquarters here, requesting that an effort be made to have certain laws passed by the legislature affecting the agricultural interests of Oklahoma. The most important of these petitions concern the graduated road tax. While no bill regarding this tax has yet been introduced, the farmers still hope to get it before the legislature and have it passed before the adjournment is taken. This tax is aimed at large bond holders, and works entirely for the interest of the farmers owning small parcels of land.

SAPULPA FIRE--LOSS $90,000

Sapulpa, Okla., April 27.—Two blocks of business houses and twelve stocks of goods were destroyed by two fires here today, one of which began at 4 o'clock a. m. and the other at 10:35 a. m., and the estimated total loss is $75,000 to $90,000. Six one-story brick buildings in the Iowa block were totally destroyed with their stocks in the first fire, which originated in the dry goods store of Shoffstuck & Treadway and from an unknown cause. The second fire destroyed six buildings with their contents on the block immediately south of the Iowa block, and is supposed to have been caused by the first fire.

Men and Women on the Witness Stand

PITTSBURG.—Are women less to be believed than men, on oath or otherwise? is a question that has been excited by the utterances of a few men, and at least one woman, who have in public recently insisted that women as a general proposition have no sense of the binding sanctity of an oath and are blind to the moral obligation of telling the truth.

A few days ago, came Dr. William H. Taylor, state chemist of Virginia, in a lecture to the students of the State Medical College of Virginia, proclaimed that a woman had "no conception of the moral obligation entailed in telling the truth." In his opinion truth with a woman is what she wants to be believed. She is convinced that what she calls her "intuitions" must always be right.

As a buttress to what these "mere men" have asserted comes Mary Heaton Vorse, a woman of some note as a writer for the magazines, who asserts that few women can be depended upon to tell the truth, she presumably being one of the few; that they "beat" street railway companies; that they listen at telephones, betray confidences, sneak the reading of letters; and that she believes the statement of an old judge who told her that upon the witness stand "women would invariably perjure themselves."

These declarations were so sweeping and so extraordinary that the Pittsburgh Dispatch was led to seek the opinions of some Pittsburgh women of note, who could be depended upon to say what they thought regardless of any reflection upon their own sex—women who think independently and whose thoughts are well defined and their language well thought out. One of these is Mrs. Enoch Rauh, president of the Council of Jewish Women.

Not a Question of Sex.

"The telling of truth is absolutely not a matter of sex," was the emphatic answer to a query by the representative of the Dispatch. "Both sexes equivocate and evade upon occasion and no one will hazard his reputation for veracity by saying that women should be singled out for this mark of opprobrium as distinct from men. Both are of the same blood and fiber, and whatever denunciation lies against the one in the matter of stating what is untrue lies against the other."

"I cannot understand how any man or woman of intelligent appreciation of the world's activities could sink to the depths of uttering such a slander against the mothers, sisters and daughters who are responsible for the maternity of their kind of both sexes."

I have found women witnesses, to say the least, no less truthful than those of the other sex. I have known of but one case of deliberate perjury by a woman.—Miss Suzanne Beatty, Attorney-at-Law.

It would be one of the most astounding of paradoxes if they could bring into the world one sex more addicted than another to the telling of untruths under any circumstances. Take the great question of heredity for instance. It is the testimony of some of the greatest physicians of this and other times that the sons unusually inherit the traits of the mothers and the daughters those of their fathers. Now how shall we assimilate this unquestioned dictum of science with the assertions of these gentlemen that women are more prone than men to evade the truth? You see that the whole proposition falls to the ground. It is not possible that environment

after birth could so warp and distort the natural tendencies. These gentlemen who have been so widely quoted evidently know little of the world of women. They have placed themselves on record after a very superficial and perfunctory analysis of the sex. The very fact that they have been quoted at all indicates that their views are altogether bizarre. If this had been an established fact in all the thousands of years of the history of the human race their belligerent proclamations would not have been noticed. Has it been left for them to make a discovery of a new world of unmorality?

"While the fact that the matter has been so widely bruited about gives it a measure of importance, it is rather that sort of importance which adds Proper discipline in his early youth would probably have had such effect upon Mr. Taylor that he would have never thought of the statements so antipodal to truth which he has made in regard to women as compared with men.—Mrs. Samuel Ammon.

to the amusing and diverting phases of social life than to those activities which make for development and progress, and the Dispatch deserves thanks for contributing to the 'gayety of nations' by giving us a chance to say a word in answer to even the most obscure of dilettantes who have presumed to air their oratory upon a theme which was certain to attract some attention and excite curiosity if not respect."

Equivocate in Little Things.

"This matter of evading the truth is even far older than the remark made by an eminent historic personage that he had said in his haste that all men were liars," was the remark of Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, well known for her great activities in civic affairs, when the caustic assertions of Dr. Taylor were broached to her. "It is quite possible and defensible," continued Mrs. Ammon, "that in what we may call the 'little things' of life women evade the truth more often than men do, because they are brought into contact with those little things, chiefly domestic, more than men are. Shall we tell the diseased that they are afflicted incurably? Shall we say to the dying that there is no hope for them? Shall we give an absolutely blunt, direct answer to prying inquiries which should never have had utterance and which may most probably be repeated as gossip with such coloring as repetition and imagination may inspire?"

"The question of unswerving truth telling is one which has agitated the deepest of analytical minds, but the greatest of these has not been led to assert that unmorality of prevarication was most highly developed in women than in men. Whatever failing there may be is to be equally condemned in both sexes. It is quite possible and quite natural that where the affections are involved the woman may be more easily swayed than the man. She is more the creature of sentiment and emotion. Her friendships and loves are deeper and dearer. Therefore, on the witness stand, she may be more readily, and surely more unconsciously, depart from the exact truth when the interests of those whom she loves are involved. But she does it unconsciously or almost so, if at all. It is a psychological impulse."

Have Fear of the Law.

"Again, a woman on the witness stand is more apart from her sphere than a man is. She is more liable to the mistakes of embarrassment. For that she should not be called to account. It is my conviction, however, that women will, generally speaking, be more likely than men to tell the truth in court. She has a fear of the weapon called the law. It is practically an unknown force to her. It is with her, therefore, potential for the truth."

"That there is too much falsehood in human life is distressingly apparent. It is all too much a part of our social existence. To some extent we may say it is enforced by conditions, but it is also all too much due to a lack of proper moral training. It is the natural bent of the child mind to evade the truth when the act has been naughty and by concealing the truth to evade reproof and possible punishment. That is the basic work of the lack of moral obligation in regard to the truth in all society. I believe that a good, sound spanking, administered intelligently, with proper spirit, at the proper time, with kindly and proper explanation, would vastly lessen the evasions, lies and perjuries of all phases of life. Proper discipline in his early youth would probably have had such effect upon Mr. Taylor that he would have never thought of the statements so antipodal to truth which he made in regard to women as compared with men."

Women Truthful Witnesses.

Miss Suzanne Beatty, attorney-at-law, gives an emphatic negative to the assertion that women are more than men inclined to evade the truth on the witness stand.

"I have been a close student of this matter," said Miss Beatty, "and it is my positive judgment that women are quite as dependable as men when testifying before a law court. When I was at home, a mere child, one of the dear friends of our family was Judge Campbell, then the presiding judge of the Clarion district. It is possible that even at that time I had in me the latent germ of the pursuit of the law as a profession, for all that pertained to the courts was of the deepest interest to me. I was much impressed with the remarks of Judge Campbell, often iterated, that he would as a general proposition believe a woman witness sooner than he would a man. Even in those childish days the remark from one who was so deeply venerated by me aroused my pride of sex and when I came to practice you can imagine that my attention was naturally directed to this subject."

All Swayed by Sentiment.

"I want to say, and to put it as strongly as words can make it, that I have found women witnesses, to say the least, no less truthful than those of the other sex. It is a well-known fact that all witnesses are to some extent swayed by sentiment in favor of the person in whose interests they are testifying. Allowance must be made for that, but that women are more powerfully influenced by such considerations than men I do not believe. I have known women to testify the truth in great stress of circumstances, when to conceal the truth would have been much to their advantage, and when cautioned by the judge that their testimony was to their own prejudice I have heard them say with tears that it was the truth and that the truth must be told. "I have never known but one case of deliberate perjury by a woman, and that was exceedingly curious. The girl's lover was under trial for burglary. The testimony was vaguely circumstantial. The girl produced a diary which she had kept for the entire year, including the time of the alleged burglary. That diary showed that the alleged burglar had been in her company at a time when it would have been impossible for him to have been on the scene of the burglary. The diary seemed genuine and the court, jury and prosecuting attorney accepted it as such. Just as the jury was about to retire, however, the attorney for the commonwealth happened to glance at an obscure imprint on the diary which showed that the book had been printed at a time subsequent to the date of the burglary. The case was continued, and it was brought out that the firm producing the diary never issued the books to be used by the trade previous to the year of their date. It was a clear case of perjury and one of remarkable cunning considering the very ordinary intellect of the girl. The matter had been written for the entire year and bore all the marks of genuineness.

Poor Basis for Sensation.

"It is a fact known to all lawyers that women fear the law more than men do, and therefore take fewer risks upon the stand in the matter of telling an untruth. It is my opinion that Dr. Taylor chose a very tottering basis for a sensation, and that in making himself talked about he has also made himself absurd."

In a very racy manner Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, attorney-at-law, discussed what has been termed by Shakespeare the "lie circumstantial" and the "lie direct." "Women may lie on the witness stand," said Mrs. Iams, "in circumstances which arouse within her a powerful sentiment, while in similar circumstances a man would lie deliberately and wilfully. The lie in the one case may be said to have been to some extent unconscious, the woman having been persuaded on account of her affections to believe that what she said was true because she wanted it to be true. The man would tell the lie direct, knowing that it was a lie, and telling it to make his case or that of the person in whose interest he was testifying.

Women More Emotional.

"Of course, as everyone knows, women are far more emotional than men. They are therefore more likely to be swayed by their sentiments. I am inclined to think, therefore, that for this very reason women are somewhat less dependable as witnesses than men, although less to blame for their equivocations. When a man tells a deliberate lie he must be an adept at the business indeed if something in his manner or expression fails to suggest that fact to the jury. A woman speaking under the influence of powerful sentiment is more apt to give her statement every semblance of truth. The man lying deliberately is well aware that he can hardly do it successfully and therefore he is less apt to try the experiment, although he is morally just as much the liar as though he did try it.

"I would say that there is some measure of truth in the assumption that women are more liable than men to go astray from the exact facts when they are in the strange position of a witness in the courts, but the sweeping assertion of Dr. Taylor that in all circumstances they are less to be believed than men is a statement that should simply make the person who made it ridiculous."

"You ask me about the conflict of what is called expert testimony. I think that is not fully understood. It is my conviction that expert testimony is usually fairly honest, no matter how conflicting it may seem, and for this reason: The expert is always examined by the attorney previous to trial and hearing, and if he be not convinced that the testimony is frankly in his favor he will not employ the expert."

For Overdose of Morphine.

When one has taken morphine, either with or without the advice of a physician, should there be extreme drowsiness followed by unconsciousness, with slow breathing, with marked contraction of the pupil of the eye and cold surface of the body, there has been an overdose. Until a physician can be summoned the patient should be walked constantly and not allowed to go to sleep. There might also be given an antidote such as powerful emetics or strong coffee, and artificial respiration.

Young Women Lead in Studies.

At the recent suffrage hearing in Boston President Huntington of the University of Boston mentioned that the young women of the university averaged better in their studies than the young men. It will be remembered that President Eliot of Harvard, President Thomas of Bryn Mawr, and President Van Hise of the Wisconsin state university bore witness to the same fact at a recent meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

Subsist on Uninhabited Islands.

Sailors cast away on uninhabited islands in temperate regions have managed to subsist for long periods. Thus, the crew of the Caroline, wrecked on Ducie Island, in the South Pacific, in July, 1883, lived there quite comfortably until taken off in May, 1885; while two survivors of the whaler Essex were three years and four months on the neighboring Henderson Island, before being rescued.

PLEADS FOR COLOR HARMONY.

Tints That Vibrate Will Rest and Soothe, Declares Milliner.

That harmony of color has its effect on the nerves is the theory followed by a milliner.

"Take a well-appointed table, for instance, with its soft-shaded candle light," she says in explaining certain hats. "It pleases the eye, relaxes the nerves and one forgets under its spell the brutality of feeling."

"An unshaded clear white electric light is enough to take away the appetite from even the hungriest man. It is like eating under an X-ray."

"Take the soft rose lights of the dining room of the Carlton in London, for instance. I mention it because it is the most perfectly harmonious room as to coloring that I know of anywhere."

"The women look pretty, the men handsome and distinguished, and one does not have to resort to the vulgar cocktail to see the rosy side of life. The pink shade answers the purpose quite as well and saves the digestion. "America has much to learn on this subject. Most of its hotels and places of amusement are most unbecomingly treated. And I maintain that one reason American women wrinkle so soon is that they have to face such strong lights."

"There is no vibration in black, and yet it is the favorite apparel of the multitude. We are overrun with blackbirds; sometimes they vary, it with a wash of white, then they become magpies."

"I designed a hat the other day for a most interesting woman, a Buddhist. It was like weaving a Persian rug. The materials were all in half-tones, and so becoming."

"I do not sacrifice the individuality of my clients, either, to my creations, but study the lines and contours of the head, the face and figure, and match the tones that have the proper color vibrations to suit the hair and the eyes."

"Only in this way can one expect results which are altogether happy and distinctive. There is no mystery in it at all, only common sense, as you, I am sure, will agree, once you have thought it out."

Hair Powders.

At the seashore and wherever warm, humid weather is encountered, the woman with straight hair has much to contend with. Unless unusually luxuriant, straight hair is always difficult to arrange becomingly, but in a hot climate the task is an almost impossible one. Some kind of powder rubbed into the hair as often as necessary will do much to keep the stray locks manageable, but of course the powder must not be recklessly used or it will defeat the very end for which it is aiming. Swedish hair powder rubbed into the hair twice, three times, or oftener, a week, is particularly good, as it also acts as a tonic and strengthens the roots of the hair besides keeping the scalp in good condition.

Corset Novelty.

A decided novelty is a new corset which proposes to support the back by pressure of two crossed straps inside the back of the corsets, the ends of the straps being anchored to the front steels on the outside. Seems almost like the proverbial lifting one's self by the bootstraps, yet the inventor says that it not only rests the back, but gives the wearer the very best "new figure," with flat back and slender hips. Furthermore, that the back steels can never turn and dig into the flesh, be the corset laced ever so tightly. For the sake of suffering woman-kind, it is to be hoped that this back-resting corset may prove to be all that its designer claims for it.

Poem in Mele-Color.

A smart and useful little suit is of moleskin gray tweed of a firm rather smooth make, with the merest suggestion of a very faint dull purple stripe in it. It is faced with moleskin broadcloth, strapped with a heavy raised silk braid to match, and finished off with purple satin buttons, inclosed in a network of mole silk crochet till the purple hardly shows.

HOW TO WASH SILK HOSE.

A Few Hints for Careful Girls Who Want to Save Them.

Careful girls don't waste their substance on silk stockings, and then send them to the laundry to be reduced to ravelings. Besides, it's a pleasure to wash the dainty, pale-lined ones.

The very latest way, which girls who have cared for their own silk hose all winter say is best, is to wash them first in white soap and lukewarm water. Then they are rolled in a cloth previously wrung out in hot water and left there to steam for an hour. At the end of this time they are turned inside out and hung out to dry, and when nearly dry rubbed between the palms of the hands to make them soft and pliable, as well as to give the foot the correct shape. Ironing is a great mistake, as the iron not only rots the silk, but causes an unsightly ridge down the center of the leg.

Another way, when the stockings are badly stained, is to soak them first in warm water, to which a little borax has been added, and then wash them quickly in tepid soapsuds, after which they should be squeezed between the fingers to rid them of the soapsuds, and finally rinsed in soft water and hung out to dry without being wrung. In the case of white hose, most girls add bluing to the water.

Lace hose should first be soaked in water in which salt or a lump of alum the size of a walnut has been dissolved, and then plunged into a mixture of a wineglass of vinegar stirred into a soapy lather, pressing them well between the fingers until they are clean. Before washing black or bronze silk stockings it is a good plan to soak them for an hour in water to which a little black pepper has been added.

BODICE FOR AFTERNOON DRESS.

This is a pretty bodice for a dress of velveteen. It has a fitting lining, which fastens down the center front; upon it is arranged a full yoke and vest of soft silk trimmed with insertion, then the velveteen is put on plain under a narrow silk gallow. The sleeves are of the silk, the lower part being rucked and tight-fitting. Epaulettes of the velvet edged with gallow ornament the top of sleeves.

Materials required: 2½ yards velveteen, three yards silk and two yards lining.

Outline Tucks.

Some of the broad tucks in the new linen tailored blouses are sewn in with the outline stitch in mercerized cotton. This is merely the back stitch used on the right side of the material, and in contrast of shades it presents many possibilities. Many women wisely prefer mercerized cotton for the purpose because it washes so much better than does the less twisted silk.

Soutache Braid.

Soutache braid is as popular as ever and whole bodies are made entirely of this material. It is very attractive when combined with cluny lace or silk.

HIGH WATER

Red River Higher Than Ever Known
Other Streams Affling.

The News has spared no pains or expense to give to its readers every item of news possible, relative to the floods, and railroad traffic, but being shut off entirely from the outside world makes it very difficult. The information received in due principally to the courtesy of trainmen and others coming into Ada by buggy. The telegraph wires leading to Texas as well as the railroads are out of business and we can get very little over the associated press wire. In fact, it is almost impossible to get any definite news either by wire or phone.

Red River is the highest ever known in its history, all bridges leading into Texas are gone. The Frisco bridge on North Fork of Red River in Western Oklahoma, the Rock Island bridge on the main line, the Santa Fe bridge at Gainesville and the Frisco bridge at Paris are entirely gone, while the Frisco-Katy bridge at Denison is still standing. It is seven feet out of line and all approaches leading to the bridge are entirely washed away and the abutments are gone.

The bridge across North Canadian River is still in, but a small bridge this side is washed away and the Frisco is transferring passengers. The Rock Island is running trains from Oklahoma City to Memphis. There is only two ways now to get into Texas, by New Orleans or Texas. The Katy is running no trains south of Atoka or north of the Canadian river. The Katy run its first train from Atoka today since Sunday, but they will be unable for several days to run north of Ada on account of the condition of the bridge at Tyrola.

The railroads are employing every available man, section foremen having instructions to hire every man in sight. It looks as though it will be several days before traffic will resume its normal state.

TWO WYCLIFF BROTHERS GIVE THEMSELVES UP

Promised Fair Trial, Notorious Indian Outlaws Have Surrendered.

Muskogee, Okla., May 26.—Two of the most noted Indian Outlaws of the Cherokee nation, Tom and John Wycliff, who are charged with many crimes and who have been in hiding for several months, have formally surrendered to the authorities of Cherokee county and been released on a bond of $5,000 each. Their surrender was voluntary and was made with the understanding that they should be given a fair trial. A change of venue will be granted from Delaware county, their home, to Cherokee county and they will be tried before District Judge Pritchard.

The Wycliffes were charged primarily with assault. When Deputy Marshals Gilstrap and Vier went to arrest them the marshals were ambushed and killed. This was two years ago and since that time the Indian outlaws have been protected from apprehension by the fastnesses of the hills in the vicinity of their home. One of the trio, Charles, was killed a few weeks ago by one of the brothers.

MEADOWS CASE IS TO BE SET THIS MORNING

Likely That Alleged Woman Murderer Will Be Placed on Trial
June 9.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, May 27.—In view of the abrupt ending of the Big Anne Bailey prosecution last night the re-setting of the Lila Meadows murder case likely will be made earlier than would otherwise have been done.

Judge Clarke will place the case upon the special session docket this morning and it is thought that June 9 will be selected as the date.

Mrs. Meadows is charged with the murder of her husband, James R. Meadows, foreman for the Pioneer Telephone company, who disappeared June 4, 1907.

Rudolph Tegeler, her paramour and alleged accomplice, has since received a life sentence for the crime.

FOURTEEN SWEEP TO DEATH OFF ISLAND

Colbert, Okla., May 26.—Fourteen persons who had taken refuge on an island formed between the new and the old channels of Red River were drowned today, in spite of heroic attempts at rescuing.

The Katy bridge over Red River went out at 9 o'clock tonight. A train load of crushed rock on the bridge was not enough to hold it after the south bank was eaten away by a cut-off channel twice as large as the main river.

TAX BILLS SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

Excise Tax Becomes Law When Executive Chooses Lesser of Two Evils.

Guthrie, Okla., May 26.—Governor Haskell today signed the Anthony bill levying an excise tax on the gross production of common carriers, oil pipe lines, public utility concerns, and oil and gas and other producing companies.

In returning the bill to the legislature with his signature the governor submitted a message, in which he admits that the extra tax imposed on the producers of natural gas and oil might be considered unfair, but in view of the other items in the bill which are manifestly just, he had to choose between saving the oil and gas men approximately $70,000, which will accrue from one year's collection of the new tax, or allow the state to lose $630,000, which represents the total amount which will be secured from all the other sources, and he chose the latter course.

The governor states that the next legislature may revise the law, if it is found to be particularly objectionable and severe on the oil producers, whom, he says, "constitutes one of the most desirable class of citizens and should be encouraged."

PASS BILL GOVERNING PRIMARY

First Tuesday in August of Even Years Is Specified Date.

Guthrie, Okla., May 26.—The conference report on the primary election bill was adopted today and that bill put up to the governor. The bill as finally agreed upon is composed of almost equal parts of the Davis bill as passed by the senate and the Bryan bill from the house. It provides for a mandatory primary on the first Tuesday of August in even numbered years at which all parties shall name their candidates for all elective offices, including United States senator. The bill is slightly in conflict with the proposed Taylor general election bill as passed by the senate, in that it contemplates registration by the city clerks, where the Taylor bill puts that in the hands of the precinct election inspectors.

A feature of the bill is a requirement that all matter printed in a newspaper complimentary about a candidate during either a primary or campaign for election must be tabulated in "at least ten point type" political advertising. The house bill for working convicts on public roads was also passed finally by the senate. The convicts get 25 cents per day for their work when they have a family dependent.

MERRY WIDOW HATS

KEPT 4 LIPS APART
New York, May 23.—For several minutes today two pretty girls side-stepped, oscillated, crouched down, tip-toed, clutched, broke away and collided in a futile effort to kiss each other past their Merry Widow hats.

It was just 2:38 p. m. when a dashing young maid in shoe-top skirt and a sailor hat three feet across the brim of it, tripped daintily down the steps of the Grand Central subway station and stood tapping a diminutive foot impatiently as she waited for the delayed express.

It was two minutes later when a second girl, with an even bigger hat came running down behind the first. They spied each other. "O, you darling," cried one, and, "why, I haven't seen you in an age," screamed the other, and both said: "I simply must kiss you." They they clinched for the embrace.

That kiss never landed. For while two pretty pairs of pursed-up lips were still far apart, the brims of two Merry Widow hats meeting and refusing to give an inch. Both girls backed off, with little smiles of annoyance.

Then the first one raised her head so that the brim tilted up at a 45 degree angle in front and the other girl stepped forward to kiss her under it. It was no good. The brims crashed in mid air and the amount of crouching in or out, about parts of them could bring the willing lips together.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.
You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Course.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. It has cured many stubborn cases. No need to experiment. W. W. Stewart, Muskogee, I. T., representing the Ohio Real Estate and Loan Co., in Muskogee, with offices in the Culbertson block, and living on J street in the eastern part of town, says: "It is over two years ago since I recommended Doan's Kidney pills through our Muskogee papers. They cured my wife of pain in her back and through the sides from which she had suffered for several months. It was not severe enough to compel her to take to her bed, but sufficient to cause more annoyance than any person cares to endure. It was because of the positive benefits she had received that I made the statement in 1904, and if the results obtained from the treatment had not been permanent nothing could induce me to publicly re-endorse the remedy. She has had no symptoms of a recurrence during the past two years, and this is why I believe that Doan's Kidney Pills should be universally used for such troubles."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

When a man writes as follows don't you think he means it? Mr. S. G. Williams, Powderly, Texas, says, "I have suffered for years with Kidney and Bladder trouble, using every preparation I came across and taking many prescriptions all without relief until my attention was called to Pineules. After 30 days' trial ($1.00). I am feeling fine. Money refunded if not satisfied. Sold by Gwin, Mays & Co

The Vanishing Fleets

BY ROY NORTON.
cognito, and met neither the emperor, "the assistant," nor Bevins, who many hours before had retired to their rest. His mood of curiosity had given way to one of thoughtfulness when the Norma again took him aboard and started northward. He sat silently in the central chamber of the radiophone, taking no part in the conversation between the chancellor and Brockton, until the machine hovered over the waters of the Chesapeake, on the bosom of which, at anchor, rested the British fleet, and then discussed the possibilities of crossing the continent to Lake Washington. Brockton was compelled to enter a protest, explaining that inasmuch as the element of time for his return must enter into their calculations, they had only a small margin. The Kaiser remembered that he was in a machine which annihilated space; but that in travelling from the west to the east the difference in the rising hour of the sun meant much in maintaining secrecy; so he reluctantly relinquished the idea. "But it will not trouble you, will it, to carry me across the cordon which has been established between your country and Canada on the homeward flight?" he asked, and to this Brockton assented. They turned to the north and at a high altitude saw far below them the constant glow of searchlights dotting out in streams of white the boundary line between the two countries. As far as the eye could reach to the east and the west the watch was being maintained unceasingly. The Kaiser recovered his good humor, laughed, and then having nothing more to view below, returned to the hood, where he again asked to manipulate the machine. Jenkins was not pleased by the recklessness with which his august guest experimented with the levers and switches; but feared to remonstrate, though uttering an occasional word of caution. Suddenly, as if confused, the Kaiser opened three switches at once. The machine gave a mighty lurch, and failed to obey the expert hand that was instantly reached by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. 25,000 CLUB ELECTION

The Annual Election of Officers of the 25,000 Club Will Occur Tonight.

Every member of the 25,000 Club should be on hand this evening when the regular annual election of officers will occur.

The stability of the institution of the 25,000 club is correlative with the stability of the commercial progress of Ada. Organization is the backbone, the very juglar vein, of any undertaking which proposes to accomplish any character of general beneficial result.

The only avenue through which organized effort may be obtained in this city intended to promote and advance the welfare of our city is through Ada's 25,000 Club.

The 25,000 Club in Ada has passed the experimental stage. Even though now but one year old, still in swaddling clothes, and compelled to nurse since its birth at the depleted breast of financial depression in which the succoring milk of commercial opportunity would not squeeze nor could be sucked out, still, good has been accomplished and withal its modest and semi-pathetic existence has been productive of the brightest promises and the fairest outlooks, always, just ahead; as far instance, the normal school, the gas well, fetching the Oklahoma Central railroad into town. About the only absolute securements in hand to the credit of the 25,000 club is the overwhelming influence exerted over congress forcing the removal of restrictions and the landslide it made when its efficient and talented corresponding secretary secured the location within our city of the great railroad immigration agent, Mr. Ira Owen Martin, than whom, it has been said, no citizen in the United States could be of more signal, commercial advantage to this great section.

The 25,000 Club is composed of the leading town-building spirits of Ada, the citizens, almost without exception to whom is due the principle credit for Ada's present, enviable commercial standing in this state are the leading boosters of the club which proposes to build a city of 25,000 souls.

Col. E. H. Lucas, the genial, capable president of the club is admirably fitted for such position. It is largely to his preserving spirit and tactful conduct of the administration of the affairs of the club that has now most assuredly immovably established it the organization of the city on which we must depend to lead all our larger commercial undertakings.

The lamented and beloved, J. E. Billis, was secretary of the club, Sam Torbett is treasurer and Miles Griggs by correspondent secretary. All have made good and attentive officers. Wouldn't be a bad state to put up tonight.

The 25,000 Club will accomplish much this year.

Oil and Gas Meeting.

All citizens interested in drilling for oil and gas are requested to meet at the 25,000 Club rooms Friday night, May 29th. Subscribers are especially requested to be present.

If you are for a bigger and better town come out.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the falling appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.
